Design Series Frequent Flyer Kit

This Drum Kit Is Made to Travel

DW created the Design Series Frequent Flyer Kit to give players a portable drum kit that doesn't sound thin and wimpy. The Frequent Flyer Kit packs a 20" bass drum for the punch and impact of a full-size kit. The secret here is a combination of shallow drum shells and lighter-weight hardware, which all adds up to an amazingly compact and transportable kit.

You still get impressive punch and tone from the Design Series Frequent Flyer Kit, even though its shells are shallow for better transportability. The secret is DW's HVLIT shell construction, which uses multiple plies of maple arranged with alternating grain patterns. By alternating the direction of the wood grains, HVLIT shells are more rigid, enhancing the focus and attack of your drum tone.

Many travel-size drum kits give you a compact kick drum that really doesn't pack the oomph you're looking for. The Frequent Flyer Kit packs a 20"-diameter bass drum, with a 12" shell depth. DW chose this size as the best compromise between tone and size, and we think you'll be impressed at the full sound you get from this drum kit.

From their newly designed mini turret lugs to their gorgeous, environmentally friendly UV-cured lacquer finish, DW Design Series drums look amazing. And their sound? These drums sing. Their extra-thick American maple HVLIT shells incorporate horizontal outer plies and vertical inner plies, and they really pack a punch. The snare has just the right amount of crack and body. The toms deliver killer resonance and projection. And then there's that slammin' kick! Of course, you get the great DW features you expect: STM (Suspension Tom Mounts), True Pitch tuning, MAG throw-off, low-mass die-cast claw hooks, and more.
